SURVIVORS FLEE TO JUNGLES

(BULLETIN)

By Associated Press Leased Wire
San Juan, Del. Soz., Nicaragua, June 8.—San Salvador, the capital of the republic of Salvador, with a population of more than 60,000, has been totally destroyed, according to a dispatch from San Miguel, Salvador. No details as to the manner in which the city was destroyed have been received, but survivors undoubtedly have been buried in the jungles.

British Troops Arrive

A dispatch from Tegucigalpa by telephone, dated 8:30 p.m. in addition to the surviving part of San Salvador, the towns of Quetzaltenango, Santa Cruz, Chimaltenango, Antigua, and Coban, were also wiped out. The losses were a billion pesos.

At 8:30 a.m. yesterday morning there was still no communication between Tegucigalpa and Guatemala.

Whole Region in Ruins.

An observer said that the edge of the devastated area extended at least 60 miles from Tegucigalpa. San Salvador was the only town that remained. Although a number of smaller towns destroyed, but the survivors have been scattered.

Americans Are Safe.

Washington, June 8.—American Ambassador to San Salvador reported to the State Department yesterday that the American legation had been destroyed but that it was not in flames. It was believed that the fire had been caused by an electrical short circuit.

Earthquake Then Eruption.

The disaster was preceded by a violent earthquake, which struck the city about 8:15 last night and continued for several minutes.

At 8:30 a.m. the eruption of San Salvador began, and the British force of 1,000 men, which had been sent to protect the Legation, was unable to withstand the terrific blow which fell upon them.

EARTH OPENS, BURES GERMANS

Million Pounds of Great Explosive Reduces Strong Holds to Dust.

LIKE GIANT BLAST FURNACE

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) London, June 8.—All the special correspondents at the front—in their descriptions of the Messines battle, feature the tremendous explosion of mines which preceded the British advance. "The earth opened" is one word description.

Every writer likens the effect on the surrounding terrain to an earthquake. One says that the hill on which he stood shook like jelly. Another, who says the explosive used was minimal, writes:

Like Giant Blast Furnace.

"We saw what might have been the doors thrown open in front of a number of colossal blast furnaces. They appeared in pairs, in threes and successive singles and with each blast the earth shook and shivered beneath our feet. It is worse than an earthquake," said some one who had known one of the worst earthquakes. Thunder clouds of smoke rose in solid form to immense heights from Hill 60, from Wytschaete wood and other places, and while our eyes were full of the spectacle, a thousand guns opened fire. The air shook as the earth shook and where earth and air met incredible explosions seemed to rend the world until we appreared part of some cosmic revolution.

Hill Reduced to Dust.

"We saw familiar landscapes, already ploughed and harrowed by the war, vanish or assume grotesque shapes. Hill 60 went up in fine dust.

The correspondents agree in anticipating desperate counter-attacks. They say the Germans are massing vast forces and intimate that the battle has only begun.

AGED GERMAN PASTOR WATCHED IN SPRINGFIELD, MO., PLOT.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Springfield, Mo., June 8.—An 84-year-old preacher, known as a German sympathizer, was under surveillance here today by authorities investigating the various abduction plots that were being unraveled as a result of the mysterious disappearance last week of the wealthy banker's child, Lloyd Keet, and the subsequent arrests of seven persons, alleged to have formed a kidnapping band.

It was said the preacher soon might be taken into custody in line with the announced belief of police that one or more German agents stood high in the ranks of the plotters' alleged activities.

The preacher, who lives here, was named one of seven in a letter that C. J. Pierpol has admitted writing. As some of the suspects have told of a German or a Russian preacher about eighty years old, a description fitting the man being watched, the authorities declared today that they would investigate thoroughly his recent movements in an effort to connect him with a plot to seize a St. Louis munition maker.

The fear that the Keet boy may not be returned to his parents is growing. Mr. and Mrs. Keet gradually are losing hope that their son will be brought back to them or found unharmed.

IOWA EXCEEDS ESTIMATE

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Des Moines, Iowa, June 8.—With the registration 202,536 in the 21 counties and seven separately counted cities that had reported early today on Tuesday's army draft registration, officials in the adjutant-general's office here were confident returns from the remaining eight counties would carry the total at least 3,000 beyond the federal estimate of 212,000 for the state.

Eureka, Cal., June 8.—Slackers must go thirsty in Eureka.

PHOTOS SHOW WRECK OF OSTEND HARBOR

British Air Raiders Bring Back Eloquent Proof of Damage Done Big German Base.

Harbor Gates Wrecked by Bombs Thrown Down—Machinery of Port Out of Business.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) London, June 8.—A series of photographic plates of the bombardment of Ostend, which have arrived in London, show in undeniable fashion that the British bombardment last Tuesday was the most successful thing of its kind yet accomplished, ensuring that Ostend will be crippled as a useful German base for weeks, if not permanently.

There are several series of these Ostend plates and they must be seen together to understand the result of Tuesday night's work. The first group, taken before the bombardment shows the town in panoramic square Harbor Gates Blown Up.

A second group of plates shows just after the bombardment. First of all there is the harbor. One is immediately struck by a slight change in the appearance of the great lock gates on which all the activity of the harbor depends. These gates are 100 feet long and 20 feet high and they seem somehow to have lost a little of their rectilinear character over night. The breaking down of the locks prevents the retention of water in the basin and the canal which feed it, incapacitating the entire port machinery.

Equally effective in crippling the harbor is hit on the operating machinery, jamming the locks so that ingress or egress is impossible, until elaborate repairs are made.

Shipping Disappears.

The plates taken the day before the bombardment show a number of ships at anchor or tied up in the inner basin. In the succeeding plates some of the ships have disappeared and others are apparently half submerged. The long wharf looks like a caricature of its former self and two or three buildings in the dock yards have suffered badly. The pictures confirm the statement in the official communiqué that more than half of the buildings in the factory section of the town have either been destroyed or badly damaged. It is easy to see that there may have been a heavy loss of life within the residential section was apparently untouched.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Rockford, Ill., June 8.—Definite date for the trial of the Rev. Leon George J. ## WOMAN ATTACKS CONSTABLE ORR

Mrs. Agnes Krantz Lashes Officer With Horsewhip When He Takes Auto.

WAS DR. THURBER'S MACHINE

W. E. Orr, a constable, was not upon by Mrs. Agnes Krantz, a widow, aged 34, residing on the Main street road, armed with a horsewhip, this afternoon when he went to the Krantz home to attach the automobile of Dr. Harry R. Thurber on a judgment for $300 secured in the court of Justice Carter, Button by Insler Leins, 233 New York street. The bill is for house rent. Dr. Thurber formerly resided in Leins' house at 266 Fifth street.

"If you come into this yard you will have to come over my dead body," Mrs. Krantz cried and grabbed a whip.

"We have been hunting Dr. Thurber and his automobile now for two weeks and I am going to get it if I have to go over you," the constable replied. He charged into the yard.

Retreat and Hold Conference.

Mrs. Krantz drove the constable back with the whip, beating him over the hands and the back. Orr took up his station in the middle of the road and held consultation with Leins. The latter then went to the home of William Wiskur, where he telephoned police headquarters and asked for help. Assistant Chief of Police Webber was sent to the Krantz home.

Finally Get Auto.

Before the arrival of the assistant chief Constable Orr made another dash into the yard and got another lashing with the whip. However, he got to the automobile, a five passenger Oldsmobile, and with the assistance of Leins got it into the road. Dr. Thurber had the car locked and it was necessary to break it to the rear end of the constable's machine with a rope. Mrs. Krantz, who has six children, rushed out of the house with a butcher knife to cut the rope just as the constable and Leins drove away.

"Dr. Thurber has been hiding from us with his automobile for two weeks," Constance says, and this afternoon he closed his office in the Traction Terminal Building three weeks ago and until yesterday we could not find him. He has been staying at the Krantz home nights, we found out this afternoon.

Dr. Thurber, whose offices in Michigan, could not be located this afternoon. He was out at the Krantz place when the constable and Leins went there for the automobile. "A machine is not in a dozen men's garages."

MERCURY JUMPS FOURTEEN DEGREES

The temperature got up to 94 degrees at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, a raise of 14 degrees since noon yesterday. It seemed much warmer this afternoon. The mercury has been up to 92 degrees this year.

"Warmer tomorrow and showers tonight or tomorrow" is the weather forecast.

Auto Runs Over Boy.—Charles Allen, six years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen, 163 Benton street, had his right ankle badly crushed last night at 7 o'clock when his father's automobile ran over his leg. The boy was standing on the running board as his father drove out of the yard. When he jumped off he slipped and the right rear wheel ran over his leg. The boy was taken to the St. Charles hospital.

Suffers Paralytic Stroke.—John P. Burt, 70 years old, who for years has dashed out the free "high ones" at the office of the Aurora Brewing company, suffered a paralytic stroke at his home, 155 Superior street, this morning at 6 o'clock. Alien Workers of Draft Age Didn't Think They Could Be Listed Until Warned.

EXEMPTION BOARD SOON

Two men of draft age enrolled at the city hall today and gave as their excuse for not registering Tuesday that they "didn't know anything about it." Both were aliens, Stanley Ruphus, 24 years old, a Russian, residing at the Men's Home hotel, and George Moynihan, 29 years old, a Romanian, 168 North Broadway.

"I didn't know that I was supposed to register until the men told me at the yard today," Ruphus said. He is employed at the Joseph Junk yard.

"You are sure that you are not registered to escape going to jail?" Deputy Clerk Weiler said.

"No, sir, I would like to go to war now if they would take me."

Warned by Fellow Workers.

Moynihan is employed in the Burlington railroad shops. He said he thought Tuesday was election day and that he could not vote because he was not a citizen. Men at the shop learned this morning that he had not registered and sent him to the office of the city clerk in his working clothes.

The exemption board for Aurora has not yet been selected. Mayor Harvey said today, William J. ## Mrs. Drexel Gets Divorce in London

Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, wife of the former Philadelphia banker, has obtained a divorce from her husband on grounds of cruelty, according to dispatches from London. She had entered into a separation agreement in 1913, two years after she had established a residence in Philadelphia, with the intention of starting divorce action. At that time she was dissuaded by her children from proceeding with the action.

Concern for Mrs. Drexel said that her husband's wealth had gone to his head and that, after the death of his second daughter, in 1914, he abused and struck Mrs. Drexel, intimidating her at other times by shouting at her. Violent scenes occurred during their residence in Carlton House terrace. It was asserted, and in the fall of 1915 Mrs. Drexel's actions caused her wife to lock herself in her room.

ANOTHER "Q" ENGINE RUNS INTO RIVER

Another "Q" engine, the third to run into the Illinois river seven days since the one at Rockford down Monday night, the same night that a Burlington switch engine ran into the little river at Ottawa.

At Rockford the engine ran off an embankment and entered the water. Engineer Sam Rose of Galena and his fireman, J. W. Davis, had a hard time getting into the stream with it. Neither the engineer or fireman were injured, but a small child was slightly cut. The crew of the engine that ran into the river at Ottawa jumped in, time to avoid being drowned.

Heavy rains near Rockford were responsible for the accident. The washouts caused the tracks to shift position. Telegraph poles were also washed out of alignment by the storms.

NORTH AURORA MEMORIAL

The Modern Woodmen and Board Neighbors of North Aurora will hold special memorial services Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Congregational church of that town. The Rev. Allison Iles, pastor of the New England Congregational church, will deliver the address. The service is planned as a commemoration observance and all are invited. Sunday school at 10:30 a.m. No other services at the North Aurora church Sunday.

FOR HIGH HEELS

Aurora shoe merchants last night sent letters and telegrams to Senator Harriet Kressman of Aurora urging her to vote against the bill, which would prohibit the sale of high-heeled shoes. The bill, if passed, would prohibit the sale or manufacture of shoes with a heel higher than one-half inch. The shoe merchants say that they have a supply of high-heeled shoes in the stores and more ordered for next fall. Besides the girls and young women like high heels and do not care about the cost of the legislation. This is the whole story of what they want.

$37 SLEEP. CHARGE

Walter G. Palmer, 15-year-old boy, was arrested at home yesterday evening on a charge of robbing Charles Austin, 68, South Broadway, his neighbor. Palmer was brought back to Aurora last night by Capt. George Morris and Chief of Detectives, Wm. T. Clegg. He was held overnight and during the night was set free by the power of Austin's wife.

BLOUSES and HATS for VERANDA BRIDGE

by Hester Winthrop

An Elaborate Costume Calls for an Elaborate Hat - This Shepherdess Shape Covered with Tinted silk with a Rose in Front and Velvet Streamers at Back

Picture Hat of Pale Pink Silk Over Leghorn with Silk Flowers in Shades of Orchid

A Gray Voile Tunic-Blouse Banded with Oriental Embroidery is set off by this Eminently Simple Hat with its Wide Ribbon

Picture Millinery Appears To Advantage Over a Bridge Table - Hat and Blouse Combinations - Airy Black Hats Much In Favor - Silk Covers the Straw In Most Picture Models.

It is the costume above the table and blouses together—those milliners that is obvious at bridge. Before who do not confine their efforts between games, everybody is too entirely to hats, and in the blouse bus, changing tables and finding departments of the big shops, you are sure to pay much attention to the very apt to find an alluring chapeau of other players, but once again details of carefully displayed near a captivating bridge-table and bodies worn by one's partner and by "second-hand" and "third-hand" present themselves with the Billing interest. It is "dummy" who studies clothes minutely as you know very well if you are a frequenter of afternoon bridge parties. Doubtless you have caught your own attention staring to alluring hats and fetching blouses visible round about the tables. There is great temptation to study and gaze when everybody but yourself is intent and unconscious, and unconcerned of your interest. And since every woman at the bridge party has an opportunity to "mouthing" several times during the afternoon, a good deal of slight, nearly, of clothes is possible.

Special Hat and Blouse Combinations
In The Shops.

Coral does seem a warm color for a short afternoon bridge parties, for they make a point of showing hats

The milliners seem to know all about afternoon bridge parties, for a

Many of the new blouse blouses are worn with a white washable satin of coral Georgette or chiffon, with skirt, white hat and white buttoned embroidery done with white boots and the ensemble will be a silk or soutache. Such a blouse may trifle for summer wear because of the amount of white in the costume.

Black with the coral, on the other hand, would be heavy and oppressive for summer time. A coral Georgette blouse with a machine embroidered white border design is pictured. The simplicity of the blouse almost reaches the austere, especially in the strap belt, buttoned at the front. The blouse is a full, slipover model with a coal collar of white Georgette, and since the coral line glows through this white collar, giving a pinkish tone, the hat is in two shades of pale pink with an underbrim facing of coral Georgette over white. Needless to say, blouse and hat were made for each other and the rest of the costume, so far as an afternoon bridge game is concerned, matches little. The skirt is a sport model of white tussah and is accompanied by white buttoned boots having high heels.

Another coral blouse of chiffon, this time in the tunic style, with many tiny pinwheels. A deep collar and turned back revers, squared off at the lower end, are embroidered in gold. Chinese figures with small coral beads. This blouse is mounted over a lining of white chiffon as coral chiffon should be, for the color is not pretty directly over the flesh of neck and arms. Any blouse of chiffon or Georgette should be pinwheeled and also seamed up with silk thread a cheap thread immediately detracts from the distinction, and may ruin the blouse, also by fading out in color. All the new shades can be matched in silk thread and so little thread of any sort is required to make a blouse that there is no excuse for the ugly, cheap sewing one often runs across in ready-made models.

Tailored White Hats Are Chic.

An example of the smart little white tailored hat of early summer season is shown in one of the pictures. The hat, a dip brim saucer with rather tall crown, travels in company with a very artistic bridge blouse of soft gray voile, trimmed with stripes of Oriental embroidery in rich orange, flame and gold shadings. After seeing this hat and blouse together, one finds difficulty in thinking up any other sort of hat that would look so well with the blouse. The simple solid lines of the headgear accord with the stockings finished the costume.

Picture Hats Of Fabric And Straw.

Elaborate costumes, of course, demand elaborate hats; and sometimes an elaborate blouse, accompanied by a very chic hat makes one look expensively dressed, even though the blouse tops off a very plain separate skirt. At any rate, striking picture hats are worn at afternoon bridge affairs and the drooping brim seems to be the favorite this year; few tulips, berries or dashing roll-brim shapes are seen now that June days have come. All the hats are sport hats or picture hats, and sometimes the two kinds are mingled in effect, gaily pleated net and blue straw are combined in one charming picture hat on today's page. Not much blue straw shows, but what does show is most effective. The white net frills and puffs give the straw hat an airy suggestion and little ribbon roses are pinned in pale pink nests against a blue velvet trimming band. Next to the mushroom shape, the shepherdess shape with sheer blouse in white or flesh tint, these black hats are most effective. A stunning black hat noted recently was in wide-brim mushroom shape covered over the crown and brim are covered with pale blue tinted satin to within two inches of the top, the brim being an extremely flexible affair, weighted at the front one step overlapping the next. A big American Beauty rose and bow of the ribbon was laid across the back by six坦gers of lace velvet to which are attached metal ornaments. The hat looks well with a summer gown of pale lavender voile embroidered with soutache in deeper tones, and a lace-colored parasol with printed pink roses emphasizes the coloring scheme of the costume.

The lighorn hat with pink silk covering is obviously worn for dramatic purpose only, since it accompanies an evening frock. The orchid tinted dowers that trim it are made of ribbon in three shades.

Preparedness in Your Garden Begins with an Apron

WHETHER you wear a garden khaki for work in the hot summer sun—and the blue with white and red trimmings is particularly satisfactory as a color scheme just now.

The garden apron is the very latest fad and it has many commendable features besides its prettiness. It has graceful lines and may be slipped on or off in a twinkling, fastening with a single button and loop at the back, while a strap belt or sash starting from the sides, draws the apron, or pinafore—which is really what it is—into a trim silhouette. A dress-up garden apron this, not for wear when one is out spading and weeding of a morning—that work calls for the chambray uniform—but for afternoon, when one is dressed in a dainty frock or sport skirt and blouse, and garden labor is confined to cutting posies for a guest or for the dinner table, or some beds must be watered just before sundown.

The apron is made of blue linen and its lower edge is slashed into square tabs. On each tab is a pocket shaped like a flowerpot, the top of the pocket turned over in a hem on the outside, to simulate the rim of the flowerpot. The pockets are feather-stitched all around and across the top with red floss, and as a finishing touch of realism, sprouting plants are embroidered on the apron just above the pockets. The stems and leaves in green, the flowers in red, white and blue. One may embroider bachelor's buttons for the blue posies geraniums for the red, and white carnations of white astilbe for the snowy blossoms that complete the color scheme. The pinafore is cut out in a deep square at the front and is round at the back, or some beds must be watered just before sundown.

that the pinafore may not slip off the shoulders when one stoops over, and the armholes are very large, the deep slashes which make them extending to the waistline. Neck opening and armholes are trimmed with tabs of red, white and blue grosgrain ribbon, each tab requiring two inches of ribbon, doubled so that each tab is an inch long.

Very slender women fancy the loose smock for gardening, but the belt or sash gives a neat silhouette when the figure is not extremely slender.

If gardening is merely a fad with you, and someone else does the actual work while you stroll about and pluck the flowers, you may have a daintier garden apron of Georgette crepe or tussah silk and pay for it, $10, $25, even $30—if so inclined. At a Fifth avenue shop are shown some of these de luxe garden smocks and one fancier they will be worn by enthusiastic if inefficient feminine "gardeners" whose daily labor will consist in posing gracefully in expensive sunken Italian gardens or on roof-bordered terraces for the benefit of admiring week-end guests. An apron of this sort has just been ordered by a well-known society woman whose pony borders on a big Long Island estate are famous. The garden smock is made of fine pink Georgette, hand-sewed on Nantucket blue and feather-stitched on cut and pocket in the same shade. The smock is slashed down from the neck and caught together at the throat with a Nantucket blue frog fastening over two pink cameo buttons. To match this fetching garden apron, there is a wide brimmed leghorn hat wreathed with pale pink peacock and having streamers of Nantucket blue ribbon at the back.

Many women writers and actresses are enthusiastic gardeners and work in their gardens all summer at their "rest-up" country houses down on Long Island or up in Westchester.

The work is relaxation to these clever women, and one does not find them posing on terraces in Georgette smocks. They wear sturdy garden togs and "go in" and grub in the soil with energy and enthusiasm. If you are lucky enough to overhear them talk about their gardens, you will learn much about planting times, raising perennials from seed, the proper fertilizer for annuals, and so on. Eleanor Gates, author of the "Poor Little Rich Girl," is a skillful gardener; Rita Johnson Young, another well-known writer of plays, is very proud of her garden up in Westchester. And both of these women gardeners pronounce the new overalls the best things ever for practical work out of doors. Miss Laurette Taylor, who made "Peg O' My Heart" world famous and who is now playing the intrepid little nurse in "Out There," is an expert gardener and can make anything grow when she puts her mind to it. One well-known woman writer works in her garden in a stunning smock made of white natural pongee embroidered over shoulders, hip pockets, front opening and cuffs with Chinse blue silk. Blue tassels weight the sash.

KEEP PICNIC NECESSARIES ON HAND

JUNE is the ideal month for picnics—when it is not too early to sit with safety on the grass, nor late enough to be afflicted with mosquitoes in swarms. What with thermos bottles, automobile luncheon hampers and refrigerator baskets, the modern picnic is quite a luxurious affair. "The car" carries the parts as far out into the country as is desired; a clever table, adjusted in the tonneau furnishes a comfortable lunching place by the roadside, and forks, spoons, teacups and even plates and fringed napkins emerge from the smart wicker basket strapped to the running board. But even if you do not own an expensive luncheon hamper or a tonneau table, a June picnic is a delightful affair—and after all it is much more fun to sit on the grass around a spread-out tablecloth in the good-old picnic way, than to lunch at a conventionally high table in the automobile. Incidentally the picnic saves the housekeeper the bother and responsibility of the mid-day Sunday dinner, entertains the week-end guest in a delightful way—and gives the general housework maid, freed from dinner getting, a whole day off, much to her joy.

If the picnic is to take the place of a dinner on Sunday, the luncheon provided should be more or less hearty. Sandwiches, pickles and cake will scarcely be enough. Chicken may be broiled the day before and each piece wrapped separately in oiled paper. Chicken salad, chicken à la king, or a meat loaf may form the substantial dish if desired. There should be sandwiches too—what is a picnic without a sandwich?—and the filling thereof may be lettuce and mayonnaise, or grated cheese. Each sandwich should be wrapped separately in oiled paper. Stuffed eggs are a famous picnic delicacy. Cut hard boiled eggs in two crosswise, remove the yolks and mix with salt, pepper, mustard and melted butter. Fill the whites with this mixture and press the two halves together, wrapping the egg immediately in a small square of oiled paper.

Thermos bottles cost very little and are of inestimable value for picnics.

tiny bag of colored ribbon trim neck and armholes and each feather stitched flowerpot is a clever and handy pocket.

Aurora Society News

Miss Katherine Burke, who recently talked in Chicago concerning the work of the Scottish hospitals in Serbia and France, pleaded for the inclusion of after dinner mints in the comfort kits which the women are furnishing soldiers and sailors. They satisfy the longing for sweets which the boys have and are also good for the digestion," said Miss Burke. Recently a Chicago firm donated 1,000 packages of mints to the Red Cross.

The Red Cross Headquarters.

Like everything under the sun, it is impossible to satisfy all demands at the Red Cross headquarters at once, as the Aurora chapter must necessarily pass thru the process of organization. It is true that Red Cross matters are handled at this central bureau on the second floor of the Terminal building, telephone 8400, but arrangements have not as yet been completed for taking care of all questions. Questions pertaining to the Red Cross work shop should for the present be referred to Mrs. J. K. Groom, who has a Chicago telephone, altho, as a means of simplification of work, E. F. Schoenlein, chairman of the campaign committee, has kindly arranged to have data concerning the wool, knitting needles, etc., at the earliest possible moment, at this central office in the Terminal building.

Rainbow Club.

The Rainbow club met last evening at the home of Miss Jessie Dolan. The decorations were lavender Japanese lanterns never saw any like that is what they said. There were games and dancing and later a delicious dinner was served. Miss Jessie Dolan of Lincoln avenue, the guest of honor, was given gifts by the hostess. Both girls are to be entertained a number of times prior to their wedding.

Entertaining at Supper.

Mrs. William Watt of Spring street appointed supervisor of the children's playground on the Island, came into town yesterday, flew around, down to the playground, etc.—in fact in honor of Mrs. Jules Rubens whose marriage to Mrs. Lewis' brother was rapidly that she returned to Chicago recently. The decorations were without anybody ascertaining the front name. ## WHY GARMENT PRICE WILL REMAIN HIGH Everything That Goes Into Make-up of Clothing Costing More Now Than Ever Before.

Even Coal, Shipping Facilities and Insurance Rates Soar—Some Detailed Facts Given.

With the near approach of the fall garment buying season, and the certainty that within a few weeks buyers from all parts of the country will be swarming to New York to begin their purchases for the season immediately to come, Nugent's has assembled for their general information some facts showing the major staple fabrics and findings employed in the development of ready-to-wear the price advance since 1916.

This schedule is compiled for the joint benefit of manufacturers of garments and for buyers who will visit their various rooms, and also for the benefit of merchants, who will by a study of these figures, be able to explain to their customers the reason why garments must be higher in price for the coming fall and winter seasons.

Nugent's suggests that buyers in the various departments supply the information so outlined to their salesmen.

The public has already been educated to expect the necessities of life—whether food or clothing is considered—to cost more. At the same time the average intelligent and thoughtful customer was always interested in reasons—the why and wherefore.

Give your salespeople the right information. Mr. Merchant, so they may intelligently discuss this question with their customers.

Ultimate Consumer Tolerant.

Thus far the ultimate consumer has been tolerant of price advances and has usually ascribed them to that indefinite bugaboo, the war, without clearly understanding how the war is influencing prices. The United States has been so prosperous in the last few years, and all classes of people have had so much money, that the actual suffering and misunderstanding due to the increased cost of living has been slight.

But it always pays the retailer to convince his patrons. A number of definite facts will go a long way to satisfy a possibly purchase that the value of a suit or a skirt or a waist has increased over last year. Since the war now includes almost every nation, its indirect influence is felt everywhere.

Shortage of Wool Supply.

Shortage in supply is in general reason for price advances. Wool, for instance, is extremely scarce. Grazing lands have been turned into battlefields in Europe and herds have been dispersed. All of the warring nations have commanded their entire supply of wool or are holding it in reserve for future use. What little they release for sale plays but a small part in satisfying the demand.

IOWA REGISTER 200,000

(By Associated Press Leased Wire) Des Moines, Ia., June 6.—With confident predictions that the total registration for Iowa would exceed 200,000, officials in the adjutant-general's office at the state capitol prepared early today for the speedy tabulation of the returns from the 99 counties of the state.

Unless the heavy rains of yesterday, making many roads impassable, prevents obtaining of the total enrollment in certain districts not easily accessible by telephone, Adj't Gen Guy E. Logan said he hoped to announce the total state registration before night.

Scattered unofficial reports seemed to point out the optimistic estimates of officials, as a number of enrolling places completely exhausted their supply of registration blanks and cards. The total registration in Des Moines had not been ascertained early today, but it was expected to approximate 3,500.

Reports available early today showed the registration had been made without any untoward incidents, minor events that marked the day including the arrest at Mason City of two Mexicans who had refused to register.

"THE BARRIER" IS FINE FILM

Noted Novel Makes Absorbing Photoplay Which Is Well Put on.

NOW AT THE FOX THEATER

One of the most absorbing and well-acted photoplays ever seen in Aurora is now at the Fox theater. It is "The Barrier," a film adapted from Rex Beach's famous novel.

The story tells of the love for Merridy, a pretty school teacher from Vermont, by two sturdy men, honest John Gaylord, and gambler Dan Bennett. Both become suitors for the hand of the maiden. Bennett wins her almost against her will, and Gaylord retires to his mountain hut, crushed and hopeless. The murderer of Merridy by her jealous husband, who accuses Gaylord of the crime, after the latter has fled with the Bennett's little daughter, that she may be saved from evil influences that surround her.

The child, "Necia," grows up in the belief that Gaylord is her father, and an Indian squaw, with whom he lives, is her mother. To the district comes a company of United States soldiers, and one of them, handsome, young Lieutenant Burrell, loves Necia, who worships him. But the Indian blood that is supposed to run in her veins is "the barrier" between them. Polon Doret, a big-hearted Frenchman, also loves the girl, and it is thru his nobility and self-sacrifice that happiness comes to the girl and her soldier-lover, after many exciting experiences for them all. The arrival of Dan Bennett, his recognition of his long lost daughter, the renewal of the contest between him and Gaylord, and the participation in the plot of a number of other characters cause a succession of happenings that produce thrill after thrill. There are several terrific "man-to-man" fights, and many scenes of sentiment and humor.

The mountain, desert, lake and river scenes are beautiful and picturesque, and the difficult characterizations are carried out in an able manner by a carefully selected cast. Mitchell Lewis is particularly effective in his portrayal of the lovable "Polon" while Mabel Juliene Scott is first the mother, and then the child, acting both parts with feeling and emotional appeal. Other prominent roles are well acted by Russell Simpson, as Gaylord; Howard Hall, as Bennett; Victor Sutherland, as Lieutenant Burrell; Edward Roseman, as Runyon, and Mary Kenneth Carr, as Alluna. The production was made under the direction of Edgar Lewis, the scenario being by A. Gil-Spear. Music especially written by Fred O. Hanks and Sol Levy accompanied the presentation.

Stop Corn Pain In Two Minutes By the Clock—Easy and Simple

The magic of Ice-Mint does it. Soreness stops quickly and gradually the corn loosens and comes out. Try it. Your feet will feel cool and fine.

Thanks to a new discovery made from a Japanese product, your foot troubles can be quickly ended.

Ice-Mint, as this new preparation is called, is said to shrink the hair follicles around the toes so that they can be lifted out easily with the fingers.

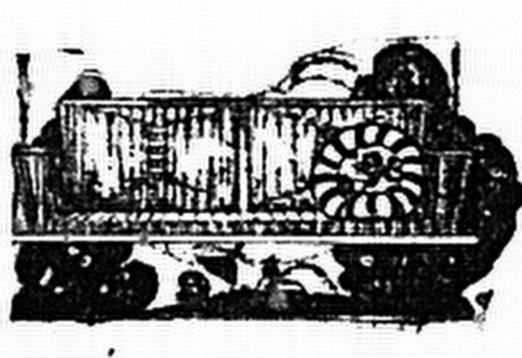

Rub a little on any tender corn or callous. Instantly the soreness is relieved and shortly the corn is loosened enough so that it can be lifted right out with the fingers—root and all. No foolishness.

Ask your druggist for a small jar of Ice-Mint which will cost little over a dollar and if one foot of soreness or callous trouble you'd like it immensely.

RUMOR "O" WON'T HIRE MEN ELIGIBLE TO DRAFT

A rumor has been current for several days that the Burlington railroad will put on no new employees who are eligible to the draft and have no exemptions. The men now in a strong demand among farmers for breeding stock and owners of ewe lambs should have no trouble finding a breeding market for them thru county agents or the state agricultural colleges. Sheep specialists of the department believe that although prices for breeding stock now are high, those who start production of wool and mutton on a moderate scale will have no cause to regret purchasing breeding stock at present figures.

RAISE MORE HOGS! GOVERNMENT PLEA

Food Experts Urge Pork Route as Best and Quickest Solution of Problem.

High Price Prevailing Past Two Years Assures Success—Supply Less Than Demand.

MEAT BY THE HOG ROUTE

The meat supply of the country can be increased more quickly by the "hog route" than by any other. The country's need to augment its supply is great but prevailing high prices alone should be sufficient inducement to farmers to raise more hogs. The prospect of success never was brighter. The high prices ruling in all markets show that the demand for pork is in excess of the supply. United States Department of Agriculture.

No branch of live stock farming is more productive of satisfactory results than the raising of well-bred swine. It conducted with a reasonable care, according to the specialists of the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture. Hogs fit into the modern scheme of farming on nearly every farm and are one of the most important animals to raise both for meat and for money. They require less labor, less equipment, and less capital, make greater gains per hundred pounds of an enterprise fed, reproduce themselves faster, and in greater numbers, and give a quicker turnover of money than any other animal except poultry. Farmers of the south and west particularly have awakened to the merits of the hog and are rapidly increasing their output of pork and their bank accounts.

The hog has no rival as a consumer of by-products and numerous unmarketable materials which but for him might be wasted. Kitchen refuse, not only from farms but also from hotels and restaurants, when cooked before being used makes an excellent meal.

SKIN MILK as Feed.

The value of skin milk as a hog feed is known on every farm that is always fully appreciated. In the neighborhood of many large cities pork production is a very prominent and lucrative supplement to the dairy industry.

To prevent tuberculosis, all milk and milk products should be boiled before being fed to hogs. To combat hog cholera, use sanitary precautions and anti-hog cholera serum treatment.

Give your hog every chance to be come meat.

The hog is also a large factor in cheapening the production of beef. Hogs are placed on the cattle feed lots to utilize the carcasses from the cattle named fatigued, aged, and which otherwise would be wasted. Hogs following steers in the feed lots have increased the price per steer by from 16 to 18%. Hogs should not be allowed to follow cattle, since less the cattle are taken, more

SHIP AIDS CRITICIZE
GEN. GOETHALS' POLICY

By Associated Press, June 3.

Washington June 3. The policy of Maj.-Gen. George W. Goethals, general manager of the government's emergency fleet corporation toward wooden ship building was today the object of criticism of E. A. Eustis, assistant general manager, and F. Huntington Clark his assistant.

They gave out statements declaring that while General Goethals has invited the wooden ship building program to 250 ships in 18 months, the builders have offered to construct 300 wooden ships could be built in that period without interfering with the work on steel vessels. The builders made offers on the basis of cost plus 10 per cent profit, but General Goethals rejected the proposals and insisted on bids on flat rates. This policy has delayed the building program. Mr. Eustis and Clark declared.

General Goethals had no comment to make when the statements were given out, but he probably would reply later.

GO TO SCHOOL! PLEA TO YOUTH

Young Men and Women Urged to Continue Studies in Fall
Despite War Activities.

NATION NEEDS TRAINED MEN

An urgent appeal to pupils to remain in high school next fall as a patriotic duty has been issued by Dr. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education. Dr. Claxton points out that there are in the high schools of the United States this year more than one and one-half millions of boys and girls, and somewhat more than 200,000 of them will graduate this month and next. In an ordinary year 80,000 or more of these would next fall enter college, normal schools or technical school to be prepared for such service to society, state and nation as can be rendered only by those who have received education beyond that which the high schools can give. He says: "Many college presidents and others fear that on account of our entrance into the war few boys and girls will enter college next fall and that the total college attendance will be very small. The number ought, however, to be much larger than usual."

The more mature young men are the more serviceable they are in the army. The selective draft will take only those between 21 and 30. In the total of 60,000,000 people of productive age in the United States the 250,000 students in colleges and normal schools and technical and vocational schools of high grade constitute only about one-half of one per cent. More than half of these live in cities and cannot be employed in agricultural production except as a few of them may find work on the farms during the summer. Those going to college will not lower the productive character of the country as a whole in any appreciable degree. The colleges, normal schools, and technical schools will all be open with undiminished income from public funds and endowments, and the expense of their maintenance will continue. It is quite probable that many of the older students will not return next fall and the higher classes will be smaller than usual. The graduates from the high schools should see to it that the lower classes more than make up for this deficiency.

This appeal is made on the basis of patriotic duty. If the war should be long the country will need all the trained men and women it can get—many more than it now has. There will be men in abundance to fight in the trenches but there will be a dearth of officers, engineers and men of scientific knowledge and skill in all the industries. In transportation, and in many other places where skill and daring are just as necessary for success as in the trenches. The first call of the allies is for 12,000 engineers and skilled men to repair the railroads of France and England; and other thousands will be needed later. Russia will probably want thousands of men to repair and build her railroads. The increase in transportation and the tax on our own roads will call for large numbers of men of the same kind. New industrial plants, shipyards, and our armies abroad will call for highly trained men beyond all possible supply unless our colleges and technical schools remain open and increase their attendance and output.

Trained Men Needed.
When the war is over there will be made upon us such demands for men and women of knowledge and training as have never before come to any country. There will be equal need for a much higher average of general intelligence for citizenship than has been necessary until now. The world will have to be rebuilt and American college men and women must assume a large part of the task. In all international affairs we must play a more important part than we have in the past. For years we must feed our own industrial population and a large part of the population of western and central Europe. We must readjust our industrial and social and civic life and institutions. We must extend our foreign commerce. We must increase our production to pay our large war debts and to carry on all the enterprises for the general welfare which have been begun but many of which will be retarded as the war continues. China and Russia with their new democracies and their new developments which will come as a result will need and ask our help in many ways. England, France, Italy and the central powers will all be going thru a process of reconstruction and we should be ready to give them generously every possible help. Their colleges and universities are now almost empty. Their older students, their recent graduates, and their younger professors are fighting and dying in the trenches, or are already dead, as are many of their older scientific and literary men, artists, and others whose work is necessary for the enlargement of the cultural and spiritual life and for all that makes for higher civilization. For many years after the war is over some of these countries will be unable to support their colleges and universities as they have supported them in the past. America must come to the rescue. We must be ready to assume all the responsibilities and perform thereby and well all the duties that will come

Mrs. Lueila Crossett will entertain us in the new and more closely related world which will rise out of the ruins of the old world which now passing away in the destruction of the war. To what extent and how well we may be able to do this will depend upon you young men and women who are this year graduating from our high schools and upon those who will follow in the next few years to a larger degree than upon any other like number of people."

Railroad War Board Finds Transportation Facilities of Nation Are Insufficient.Public Must Be Willing to Sacrifice
Non-essentials to Assist Nation in Moving Supplies.(By Associated Press Ledged Wire.) Washington, D. C., June 8.—The war time transportation program of American railways was outlined in a statement today by Howard Elliott,
former president of the New Haven
railroad and a member of the railroad war board of the Council of National Defense, which is operating the country's rail lines as one continental system.The policy of the board, as set forth by Mr. Elliott, will be to move the essential freight first and to run no passenger traffic that can be removed without serious inconvenience to the traveling public.

Public Must Aid.

The war board feels, Mr. Elliott said, "that if the war goes on the available will not be enough. It will be absolutely necessary to use such transportation as there is for essential things. The public should willingly give up the non-essentials.
It is going to be a great deal more important for this country to move food,
fuel, iron and the like than to move luxuries. We hope that we are going to be able to move them all, but I think it is only fair to point out the facts and ask the public's support."Mr. Elliott urged railroad employees and the public to co-operate in moving freight at top speed.WAR REGISTRATION LISTS ARE TRIPLEDThree lists of the names of all of Kane county's youths who registered for the war draft Tuesday are being made by County Clerk Charles Lowry.These lists will be used as follows:
the containing names of those registered in each precinct to be posted in the home present, who is to go to the post office for publication and the list to be kept as an official record.Clark Lowry stated today that he has received help in this work from the other offices who could spare the time of clerks.

FLANNIGAN-TREMAN

A wedding which occurred yesterday afternoon at St. Mary's parsonage was a complete surprise to many friends. Miss Inez L. Treman and the bride and the groom was Arthur J. Flannigan. While the ceremony was anticipated, the date was not announced. The groom was enlisted in Capt. W. C.
Flannigan's supply company of the Third regiment. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. Kilderry.The bride, wearing a pretty gown of white lace, was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Flannigan, wearing blue silk. Arthur Ashe was the best man.The groom is employed as purchasing agent for the McDonald Machine Company, Chicago. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tremen, a celebrated musician and a member of our city. After a wedding service Mr. and Mrs. Flannigan left for a short trip.

ONE "SLACKER" REPORTED

One young man, a complaint has been made to the park district commissioner, who said he had reason to believe the boy, a graduate of one of the city's high schools, was not one of the boys who have been recruited for the draft, as he had been reported as a "slacker."He registered at the draft office yesterday, the man told the commissioner, and was asked to return the name of the school at which he did not register his name
yesterday.MRS. E. FARNAM

CAR LOOKING NEWClean It the Way the Expert Does
—A Very Simple MatterThe beauty body surfaces of your car will last several seasons if given simple care. This does not mean a lot of hard work, as is often imagined.Washing is not necessary except to remove heavy mud or grit, and even then soap should be avoided unless the deposits are stubborn.For ordinary cleaning and for polishing, Tobey Polish, made from the old secret formula of The Tobey Furniture Company (Chicago and New York) perfectly answers all requirements. It cuts off the dirt and grease, obscures small blemishes; nourishes the finish and maintains its full body and color.It wipes off dry without hard rubbing and does not collect the dust.For these reasons it is used at the factories of many leading auto-

Ought to Help You Over the Critical PeriodLowell, Mass.—For the last three years I have been troubled with the change of life and the bad feelings common at that time. I was in a very nervous condition, with headaches and pain in the head, and particularly in the stomach, which I was unable to tolerate. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it relieved me in every way. I am not nearly so nervous, no headache or pain. I might say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only remedy
any sick woman can take. MARGARET QUINN, 1607 Worth St., Lowell, Mass.Other warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flushes, headaches, backaches, dread of incipient evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, spasms
before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude and dizziness.If you need special advice, write to Production Next Spring.Big Requirements of Wool by Government Also Make All Finished Materials High.This is what the Dry Goods Economist, a recognized authority in its field, has to say as to the conditions in textiles and allied lines:"Frocks" at 15 cents may well make an old-time cotton goods man start a plain bleached muslin of medium grade selling for what at one time would have bought a fancy dresscot-tut! Nor is this steep advance over the price ruling during even good times a few years ago an exceptional

one. On the contrary, increases more or less similar are apparent in cotton goods of all kinds, as in many other lines. A variety of staple cottons, finished and unfinished, including prints, fine bleached muslins and cambrics, silks and wide sheetings, were advanced again this week. Due to the inability to compute the cost of staples, fancy dress gingham have abstained from naming the opening prices for next spring.Such discouragement as is expressed by New York manufacturing concerns does not seem to be warranted, especially in view of the activity reported by retailers in various sections. Reports received by the Economist this week from three centers in Kansas show retail sales there to be ahead of last year, with the retailers expressing the intention of buying more largely than ever for the coming fall.From Georgia and Florida we have optimistic reports. A large store in Savannah is increasing its floor space
by nearly 50 per cent. A retail concern in Augusta has had a most excellent season and is looking forward to a big fall. In Jacksonville, Fla., there is hardly a house available in the city for rent and there has recently been the biggest tourist trade in the history of the city. Shipbuilding plants in Jacksonville are also very active and a grain elevator company has just been organized there.These conditions are reflected in the placing of the leading and largest line of serges at value, which means that no prices will be announced, but that quotations will be dependent wholly on developments
as they arise.Still more significant is the introduction in wool and worsted dress goods of new types of cloth which will be sure to bring down the demand for basics or rather for non-essentials, but the great mass of apparel continues to buy there other products who are willing to sell.

There is a steady export movement of wool and worsted dress goods, especially to Mexico and South America.

Silks Very Firm.The action of the senate finance committee in cutting out the proposed 10 per cent raise in duties and the proposed 10 per cent tax on all articles, including raw silk, now on the free list is welcomed by silk manufacturers as also by raw silk houses.
With raw silk as scarce as it is in Japan and China, however, prices bid fair to remain firm.A fair amount of orders for fall silk fabrics are being placed thru men on the road and a few retail buyers of silk have been in the market
this week looking for jobs for July sales.

No Cause for Pessimism.

In most lines apart from fabrics a between-seasons' movement prevails but is not marked activity looked for until after July 4. It would seem that this quite normal condition, together with the unusual production of cold weather, is more responsible for any lack of demand than hasten-cy created by the war.Such discouragement as is expressed by New York manufacturing

ranted, especially in view of the ac-

IS ITCHING FOR FIGHT

(By Associated Press) LONDON, June 1.—Amsterdam, June 1.—The Berlin Local Ausziger, commenting on Admiral Sims speech Sunday at the celebration in London of the first anniversary of the battle of Jutland says that the admiral "may rest assured that German navy wishes nothing more than a new encounter with its enemy." The paper adds: "Perhaps the latter will be induced to show himself again. We will attend to the rest."

In his address in London Vice Admiral Sims expressed the hope that if a new battle of Jutland occurred the American navy would have an opportunity to take part.

Why Rheumatism Comes

With Cold Weather

(By Valentine Mott Pierce, M. D.)

A close connection exists between these two—cold weather and rheumatism. Prof. Alex. Haig, of London, has the most followers in the belief that the presence in the system of uric acid, or its salts in excess, is the real cause of rheumatism. Every one has recognized the difference in the appearance of their water as soon as it gets cold; there is often a copious sediment.

Several causes may lead up to an accumulation of uric acid in the system, which, in turn, cause rheumatism or gout, or creaky joints, swollen fingers, or painful joints. For one reason the skin does not throw off the uric acid by profuse sweating, and the body, and the kidneys are unable to take care of the double burden. Another reason is that people do not drink as much water in cold weather as in summer, which helps to flush the system. And then there are those that cold weather, and some people are so susceptible that they soon develop rheumatism after catching meat.

At all such times persons should drink copiously of hot water, say, pint morning and night, and take Anuric (double strength), three or four times a day. This Anuric comes in tablet form and can be had at almost any drug store. It dissolves the uric acid in the system and carries it outward. I would advise everyone to take Anuric occasionally, and especially three or four times a day. In that way avoid the rheumatism, gout, and many of the painful disorders due to uric acid in the system.

Make yourself healthy and strong by open-air exercise and rest. Then cleanse the liver by occasionally stimulants, in conjunction with a pleasant laxative composed of the May apple, dried juice of aloe, and root of jalap, sugar-coated and long sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.—Advertisement.

DR. COFFEE WILL VISIT AURORA Tuesday, June 12

At Bishop Hotel

From 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

HE TREATS NEW PATIENTS ONE TIME FREE.

Dr. W. O. Coffee

Oculist and Aurist of

many diseases,

22 years' experience.

Tailoring

sight, blindness, deafness, head pains,

and catarrh, and has had splendid success, saving many people from blindness, deafness and difficult surgical operations. He is treating many cases of catarrh, granulated

skin, scurvy, growths, warts, hairs,

weak eyes and failing sight, eye inflammation and congestion of the eyes and nerves, and restored good sight to several cases that had worn glasses

for weak eyes, were able to put them away and see good without them. He has straightened many cases of crooked eyes. Here he straightened three cases in three minutes. He straightens eyes in three minutes, and the patients can sit and talk to him while it is being done and go home with out trouble. He claims to have straightened about 7,000 cases.

One day he removed adhesions from five children's noses and throat.

He has treated over 10 cases here.

He does this in 15 minutes, without pain or effusion in the new nose.

Dr. Coffee states he thinks he has treated more cases of adhesions

than any doctor in this country.

He has treated a great many cases of deafness, loss of hearing and head aches and restored hearing in some of the most chronic and severe cases of deafness of long standing. He says

most cases of deafness and head aches where the disease has not affected one ear and is starting in the other should be cured or greatly relieved. He says a most of these cases in the tubes and middle ear affected, and there is no person in the car drum. His new treatment gives quick relief to many of these cases, with one or two treatments. He says catarrh is a conditional as well as a local disease and should be curable. His treatment gets it out of the system. He has cured

many very bad cases here.

He invites every person suffering with any of the above troubles to come and get his opinion and if he thinks he can help you he will treat

you one time free to show you how it acts and that you have never seen or used anything like his new treatment before and you will be under no obligation to continue his treatment or pay him any money for this free treatment. He says if just wants to prove to you that your case should be curable if the tissues are not seriously damaged by the disease, he warns you not to submit to surgical operation in the tubes, ears, nose or throat before trying this once free. He accepts no case he thinks incurable. He has treated eye, ear, nose and throat diseases for over 22 years and cured cases here 20 years ago. He has treated thousands of cases and offers you his advice and one treatment free now. He will tell you the truth about your case as he sees it from the treatment of many similar cases. He will make return trips here regular. For further information, address Dr. W. O. Coffee, Des Moines, Iowa.

HOW OLD ARE YOU? CAN YOU PROVE AGE?

Never in History of Nation Has This Question Been So Important as Now.

Complete Birth Registration Necessary—Public Inertia on Matter Must Be Ended.

How old are you? Never in the history of this country has this question been of such vital interest to so many people as it is today, June 5, 1917.

Never before has the United States government been so deeply interested in knowing the exact ages of the young men of the land.

So that never before has the public been made so ready to grasp the great importance of complete birth registration.

In ordinary times as the years go by and problem after problem is taken up and settled, our civilization grows, and the more rapidly these problems are taken up and settled the more rapidly this civilization grows.

In ordinary times the continual demands upon our attention first by one problem and then by another easily explains the temporary side-tracking by so many states of the problem of complete birth registration. It is not because the people believe birth registration unimportant, but the problem has simply been crowded to one side until a more favorable day.

Birth Never Recorded.

When the story is told of the American arrested in London as a German spy, unable to obtain birth certificate because his birth had never been recorded and because the doctor had died, but finally saved by the discovery of an old letter which told of his birth, the people grasp the point and agree that births should be registered, but as the story relates to somebody far away, somebody unknown, and probably never heard before, the point is soon forgotten and no wave of strong public opinion is ever really started. So too the statements that birth records are needed to prove men of voting age, to establish old age pensions and pensions for the children of soldiers, to establish rights of inheritance, to determine how efficiently the states are protecting the health of the children, and to determine who is entitled to the protection of our flag, these statements are too apt to be treated as old axioms which call for no immediate reform.

The need for complete birth registration is recognized but the inertia of the people still prevails.

Thus in ordinary times the problems of civilization are settled slowly, but not so in time of war or after great catastrophes. Then the emergency or bitter experience brings quick results.

The city devastated by fire is so rebuilt as to guard against a second configuration.

The terrible loss of life which follows overloading an excursion steamer soon results in more stringent laws and in greater safety for future travelers.

And today—this war call for the registration of our young men brings home the need of birth records to every community and to almost every family in the United States.

How Old Are You?

Can you prove that you are under 18 or over 31, or must you forever be suspected of having falsified your age?

Perhaps a fond mother to save her son from the horrors of the trenches may swear that he is below the age limit, perhaps years later proof will be found that this man should have registered. Imagine his chagrin at not having done his part in the war.

Perhaps there are mothers who in the absence of birth records may be likely to shirk registration.

Surely on this day the need of complete birth registration is evident to all!

May we not hope that this call for the registration of all men between the ages of 23 and 31 will awaken the people from their lethargy and lead at once to this forward step in our civilization—the registration of all men.

If you are interested in this call for the registration of all men between the ages of 23 and 31, write to the War Department, Washington, D. C., and ask for "Gets-It." It is awfully funny to hear another man say "I ain't."

The fellow who says "I ain't" thinks he is awfully funny to hear another man say "I ain't."

BRITISH CAPTURE 6,000 OF GERMANS

(From Associated Press Leased Wire.)
British Headquarters, Paris, June 8.—From correspondent of the Associated Press. The number of prisoners reaching the collecting stations since the beginning yesterday of the new British drive in Belgium has now reached more than 6,000. Many more prisoners are coming in.

No estimate of the number of guns captured is yet possible, altho it is known several German batteries were taken practically intact.

The night passed quietly on the front of the new attack, all the conquered territory being held.

Prisoners—Germans captured during the British bombardment.

The German losses in their country attacks were terrible. The full depth of the British attack was known. Three counter attacks by the Germans which were not delivered in great force were broken up last night.

French Check German Thrust.

Paris, June 8, noon.—Heavy fighting continued through the night before St. Quentin, the war office announced. German infantry attacks between St. Quentin and La Fere were checked by the French.

The French positions were bombarded with especial violence before the infantry attacks. Seven encounters occurred at various other points on the front. The French took prisoners in raids in the region of Soissons.

British Fire Deadly.

Up to last night 5,650 prisoners had been counted. More came in to the collection stations early today bringing up the total to well over 6,000 with many more yet to come.

Two comparatively large packets of Germans, overlocked in the first division, had been surrounded in Battle Woods near the northern bank of the Meuse attacking front and in staggered trench down toward the southern bank of this line. The mopping up troops were expected to deal with these Germans during the day.

Of more than 100 officers taken many are artillery men. All the latter said the British fire the last seven days had destroyed scores of German guns. In some instances all four guns in German batteries were damaged while in other cases three of the four guns were lost.

The work of the British Army corps in directing the shooting is beyond all praise. German officers said they felt absolutely helpless in the face of the British guns. The statement says that the Germans are now confronted by an estimated two-thirds of the entire Austrian army.

German Retreat Says Berlin.

Aurora, June 8.—A statement issued to the press by the German Foreign Office said that Austria has made no formal announcement of its intention to retreat from the front. It comes from the Foreign Office, which statement says that the Austrians are now confronted by an estimated two-thirds of the entire Austrian army.

Lasher, who is well known in Aurora, was accompanied by Edward Senn of Elgin, formerly of Batavia and Thomas Hoban. They had hardly arrived until they fell into the hands of the police.

travelling on the Wabash.

The first day out we were a pretty quiet train load, a marked contrast to the howling mob of recruits we had shipped in with a week before.

For most of these men are old soldiers. Yelling at strangers is not considered good form.

Also, they know what they are going into. There are few men on this train that could be dragged off with a team, but their happiness is still remote to the recruit, but it is getting pretty close to the 18th infantry.

Yesterday the car was decorated with wild flowers—for the Kaiser's grave. The boys picked them while we were hauled on the Oklahoma prairie by a hot box on the cook train. And we wouldn't get very far without the fact that there's kitchen on wheels.

The "show" is brought thru the cars in large boxes and other cans, cases intensively. We eat in our mess kit just as if we were in the field.

The German authorities are conducting a vigorous publicity campaign to convince the people that all is well with the coming harvest and that present food difficulties will disappear as soon as the new crop is available.

Movie Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Francis X. Bushman. The secret's out. The July issue of Photoplay magazine contains an interesting photograph of Francis X. Bushman and Mrs. Bushman. It is the only picture of Mrs. Bushman ever published and the magazine puts it in its “Who's Married to Who” department.

The pranks of Cupid in the art-world are perennially fascinating. Why is it that the matinee girls and perhaps all her family first dread the day when the heroine or the hero goes into partnership, and then finding that the step has been taken simply cracks with curiosity until she finds out who the partner is? But it's safe to say that no charmers' husband ever pleased the boys who secretly worship her picture, while if Venus were the leading man's wife she would of course be considered perfectly impossible by his last feminine congregation.

Max Linder's Lungs Affected.

At this writing there is doubt as to whether Max Linder, the famous French cinema comedian, will play again before the cameras, says the July Photoplay magazine just out. “After two comedies in Chicago Essanay sent Linder to Los Angeles for the remainder of his pictures under his first American contract, in the hope that the milder climate of the coast would restore his failing health. One comedy was completed in Los Angeles, and another just begun, when Linder was compelled to cease work. Two years on the firing line with the French army had done its work. A shrapnel wound in the lungs, added to the exposure which he underwent, undermined his health, never very robust. According to his physicians, both lungs are affected, but it is hoped by them that the actor may recover, in a measure at least, by a long stay in Arizona.”

Three-year-old Star.

Of the hundreds of babies at work in motion picture studios, none is more talked about than Ivy, Ward, who appears in star parts in Metro productions. Altho this pretty bright-eyed youngster is only three years old, she is the life of the studio, because she makes friends quickly and does exactly as told.
